-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 2141

1. Claims 1-20 are presented for examination.
2. The non-statutory double patenting rejection, whether of the obviousness-type or non-obviousness-type, is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985) In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).
3. A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a non-statutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).
4. Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-49 of U.S. Patent No. 6,615,241. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the context of the claimed invention is the same as the context of the cited claims of the U.S. patent.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --
(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-11 and 13-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nakanura patent no. 5,548,789.

8. As to claim 1, Nakanura teaches a method of receiving e-mail, said e-mail including a header and a message body, comprising the steps of:

separating said header from said message body (col. 7 lines 45-67, message header and message body are separated); storing said message body in a message body field (col. 7 lines 45-67, message header and message body store in different memories);

separating information contained in said header into a plurality of header information fields (col. 9 lines 51-64); storing said header information fields (col. 9 lines 8-20, col. 9 lines 51-64, message control table has message areas for storing names of sender, receiver, etc.);

linking at least one of said plurality of header information fields with at least a second of said plurality of header information fields or message body field (col. 8 line 60- col. 9 line 20); and creating a plurality of relationship fields for storing information sufficient to identify said link between said at least one header information field and said at least second header information field or message body field (col. 8 line 60- col. 9 line 20).

9. As to claims 2-11, 13-16, Nakanura teaches header information fields, relationship fields are stored as tables, fields for identifying message body, information for linking said header information fields and said relationship fields and said message body, multiple e-mails, email message number (col. 8 line 60- col. 9 line 20).

10. As to claims 17-20, they are related to receiving a message and have similar limitations as claims 1-4; therefore, the discussion above is applied.

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. Claims 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Nakanura patent no. 5,548,789, in view of Scannell et al (Scannell) patent no. 5,377,354.

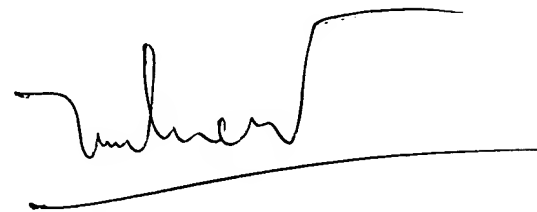

13. As to claim 12, Nakanura teaches the invention substantially; however, Nakanura does not explicitly teach prompting an e-mail recipient whether to save or delete a second email message if the sender e-mail information is not identical to information stored in said plurality of header information fields. Scannell teaches applying a set of rules to incoming message before appropriate action is taken, and the rules uses various header fields (col. 3 line 50 - col. 4 line 4, col. 5 line 26 - col. 7 line 8). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the Data Processing art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Nakanura and Scannell to automatically scans received message and prompt recipient for further actions because it would allow user to have more control whether to keep the received e-mail message or not.

14. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Le H Luu whose telephone number is 571-272-3884. The examiner can normally be reached on 7:00am - 4:30pm.

Art Unit: 2141

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Rupal Dharia can be reached on 571-272-3880. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
